ABOUT THE FESTIVAL

The Creative Bureaucracy Festival puts excellent, creative solutions to almost all community issues and the people behind them in the limelight. From small adjustments to big visions for the future! It represents a shift from a “no because” culture to a “yes if” culture that embraces experimentation and new ideas. In doing so, the festival aims to refresh the reputation of public administrations and appeal to imaginative new talent. The Creative Bureaucracy Festival 2024 will take place live in Berlin on 13 June. Prior to the live event, the festival's Digital Kick-Off Day will start the year on 21 March 2024. The festival is sponsored by the main festival partners Falling Walls Foundation and PD.

ABOUT THE DIGITAL KICK-OFF DAY

Kicking off another year of public sector innovation and offering an additional platform for forward-thinking ideas and projects prior to the live festival in Berlin is the Digital Kick-Off Day on 21 March 2024 – a free online event for everyone across the globe with jury-selected sessions from the festival's global Call for Participation. Last year's Digital Kick-Off Day counted almost 2,000 digital participants from 77 countries and 100 speakers from 20 countries, as well as over 10,000 votes cast to elect the community voting winners, who are invited to the festival's big stage in June. Participation in the digital programme is free of charge.

For the first time, this year the programme comprises three different categories and will offer more than 90 Project Showcases, Digital Workshops and Podcast Episodes coming from more than 30 countries.

All project showcases will be grouped into four programme clusters representing key issues within the creative bureaucracy sphere:

- Bureaucracy 2045: Thinking Afresh
- Transforming How We Work
- Delivering Collective Impact
- Living Better Together

Text #1 - Website / Newsletter - long:

Every year thousands of international participants from government, politics, civil society and other change-making organisations join the Creative Bureaucracy Festival digitally and in-person to share and celebrate outstanding examples of innovative public administrations. In 2024, the festival will return with the Digital Kick-Off Day on 21 March and the highlight event on 13 June live in Berlin.

The Digital Kick-Off Day will offer a packed programme of inspiring examples of creative bureaucracy in action. It is a free online event for everyone across the globe with jury-selected sessions from the global Call for Participation – kicking off another year of public sector innovation and offering an additional platform for forward-thinking ideas and projects prior to the live festival in Berlin. For the first time this year the Digital Kick-Off Day offers additional opportunities for exchange and learning. There will be 22 digital workshops throughout the day as well as 30 podcast episodes in various languages.

The day will be split in two halves: the first half will take place in German and cover projects from the DACH region, and the second half will take place in English and cover projects from all other parts of the world. Three winning projects (per language) will be announced at the end of the respective programme half and will be offered a programme slot at this year's live festival in June.
